Description

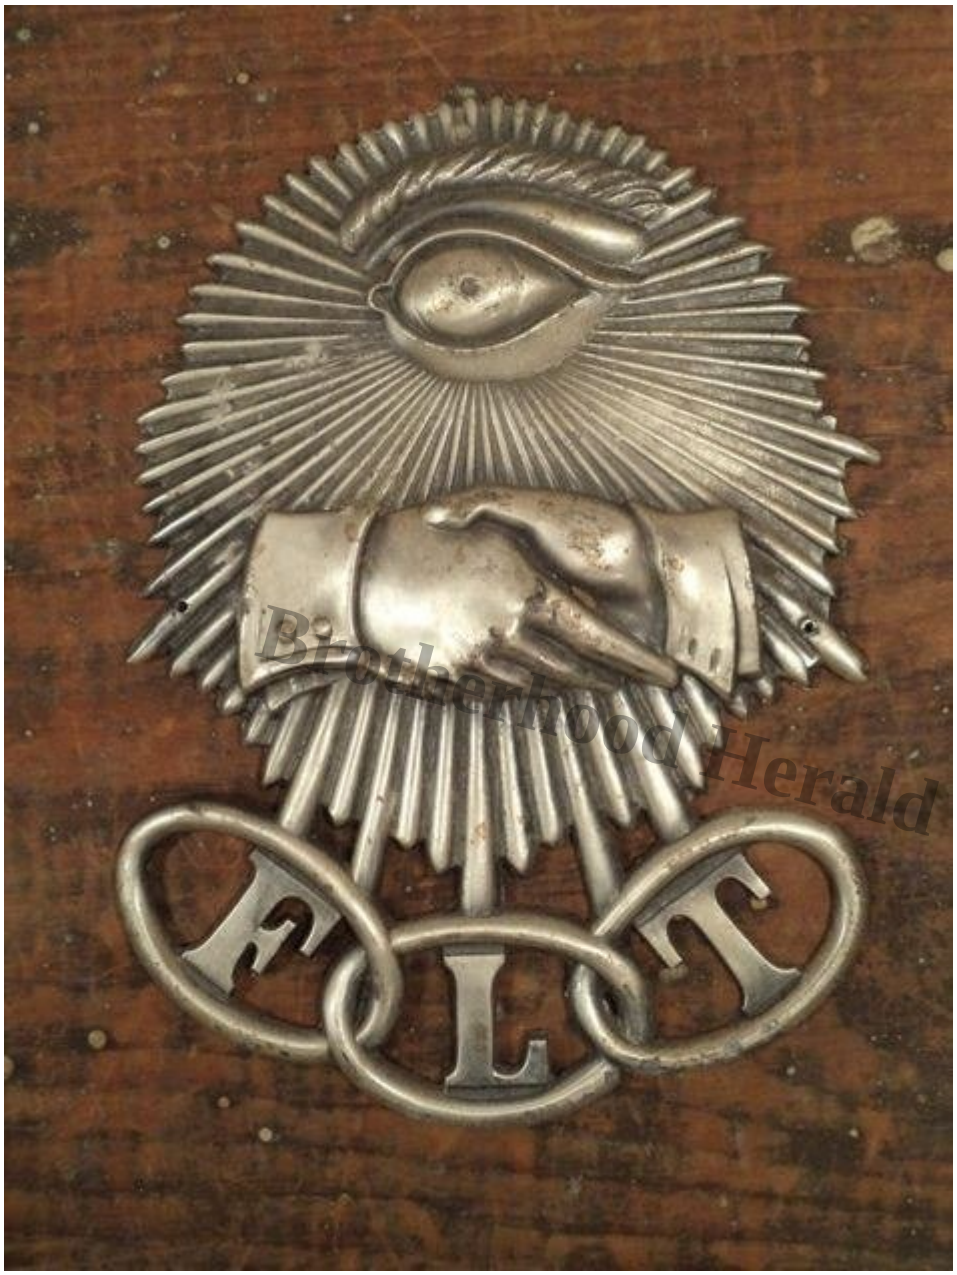

Brotherhood Herald

The Order of the Knights of Pythias in Missouri may soon have a new lodge in the city of St. Charles. Brother Casey Pemberton, Immediate Past Grand Chancellor of Missouri, and Brother David Castoe, Vice Chancellor of Sicilian Lodge No. 39, traveled to St. Charles to meet with the brothers and sisters of St. Charles Lodge No. 241 of the Masons, at the common fraternal altar.

After the meeting, everything points to the next Knights of Pythias lodge of Missouri being instituted in the city of St. Charles, in the Grand Domain that groups the states of Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. The Order, founded in 1864 on the principles of friendship, charity and benevolence, thus continues to extend its presence in the American Midwest.

Headline: John Bailey, new Grand Patriarch of the West Virginia Odd Fellows Grand Encampment.

John Bailey, Senior IT Administrator at Unified Bank, was elected and installed as Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment of West Virginia, the highest leadership position within the Encampment branch of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in that state. Bailey, who has dedicated 21 years of service to the bank, began his term on June 20, 2026, and will serve through June 19, 2027.

Bailey joined the Odd Fellows in 2017 and the Encampment branch in 2019. One of his main responsibilities as Grand Patriarch will be to promote and support Camp Kno-Koma, a West Virginia summer camp serving children with diabetes. The Independent Order of Odd Fellows has about 27,000 members in the United States, plus members in Europe and Asia, with a mission to serve communities through charitable works, educational support and community engagement.
